Description:	The Army used the 29.46-acre site for Nike antiaircraft missile defense for the Chicago metropolitan area at Burnham Park. The site was incorrectly identified in the past as "Jackson Park." The launcher area is located in Chicago on the edge of Lake Michigan across from the end of 28th Street. The housing area is located just south of the launcher area across from the end of 29th Street. The control area is located about 3/4 mile south of the Housing Area across from the end of 35th Street. All three sites are within Burnham Park.
History:	The Army leased the site from the Chicago Park District in 1954. The leases were terminated in July 1962. All structures, improvements, and the missile silos have been demolished and the area returned to park conditions.

Environmental Interest/Information System

AFS (Aerometric Information Retrieval System (AIRS) Facility Subsystem) replaces the former Compliance Data System (CDS), the National Emission Data System (NEDS), and the Storage and Retrieval of Aerometric Data (SAROAD). AIRS is the national repository for information concerning airborne pollution in the United States. AFS is used to track emissions and compliance data from industrial plants. AFS data are utilized by states to prepare State Implementation Plans to comply with regulatory programs and by EPA as an input for the estimation of total national emissions. AFS is undergoing a major redesign to support facility operating permits required under Title V of the Clean Air Act.

ACES (Illinois - Agency Compliance And Enforcement System) is the Illinois EPA Project to facilitate the permitting operations

RCRAInfo is a national information system that supports the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) program through the tracking of events and activities related to facilities that generate, transport, and treat, store, or dispose of hazardous waste. RCRAInfo allows RCRA program staff to track the notification, permit, compliance, and corrective action activities required under RCRA.
